Re: Site Inspection, Red Rock Mine, M/037/050

On December 10, 1987, I inspected the Red Rock Mine. The portal has not been secured and the trash on site has not been removed as was requested in June. I also inspected the ponds above the mine. They are relatively small with only about an acre of disturbance.

Total site disturbance at this mine is estimated to be between five and seven acres. I do not recommend that this site be allowed to file under a small mine notice of intention unless the operator complies with our previous requests. Some type of interim reclamation may also be appropriate given that this site has probably been inactive since 1984.
